

From kindergarten to graduation
From being diploma topper to opening the book 2 hours before the exam
From getting same degree college to getting placed in the same company
From the shady auto rides to the best train journeys
From those stupid late work nights to amazing Bollywood nights
From completing assignments to completing websites together
From singing stupid Punjabi and Bieber songs in public to dancing horribly at my place
From selecting saris and clothes to getting eyebrows done together
From crying together to understanding jokes with just looks,
From understanding others' situations to judging people at a glance what have we not seen together?
Its been more than 18 years of bearing you and I am glad I am alive.
Other people's life revolves around their partners, more than half of our lives revolve around each other.
Here is to all our first times and last times
To all the times we loved and hated each other
To all the dahi vadas and time we shared with other people.
All I want from you in my life is when I say
"Ya ye sachha, ya main jhuthi, baat Sirf itni si hai aarti, ya toh ye ya main"
